Book Week

Message from The Principal

This week, we are thrilled to celebrate Book Week 2025, themed "Book an Adventure!" It's time to embark on exciting journeys through the pages of captivating stories and discover new worlds through the magic of reading!

Book Week Parade: Wednesday @ 11:45

One of the highlights of Book Week is our annual Book Week Parade, taking place this Wednesday. Students are encouraged to come dressed as their favourite book characters, ready to showcase their creativity and love for reading. This is a fantastic opportunity for everyone to celebrate the joy of books together!

Book Fair in the Library

In addition to the parade, we have also been hosting a Book Fair in the library. This is a wonderful chance for students and families to browse and purchase a variety of books, ensuring that everyone can find their next great read. The Book Fair will feature an exciting selection of titles for all ages, so if you haven't already, make sure to stop by and explore!

Author Visit: Andrew McDonald (Week 6)

We are also excited to announce a special visit from acclaimed author Andrew McDonald. Andrew is known for his engaging stories that inspire young readers to dive into the world of literature. Students will have the chance to hear from Andrew, learn about his writing process, and ask questions about his adventures as an author. This is a wonderful opportunity for students to connect with a real-life storyteller and get inspired to create their own literary adventures!

Adventure Awaits in Every Book

As we embrace the theme "Book an Adventure," we encourage students to think about the adventures that books can take them on. From thrilling quests and magical lands to heartwarming tales and inspiring journeys, books open doors to endless possibilities. We invite you to discuss with your child the stories they love and the adventures they wish to experience through reading.

Let's make this a memorable week filled with creativity, imagination, and a shared love for books!

Warm regards
Mr Vincent
Rel. Principal.
