PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

Highlights

Vicky Wallace

PRINCIPAL

Dear Parents and Community Members,
I hope this message finds you well. I am excited to share some highlights from our school community over the past few weeks.

Debating

Our Year 5 debating team recently showcased their talents in a spirited competition against a local primary school. This was only their second debate, and I am proud to report that they performed exceptionally well. Their hard work and dedication were evident, and it is a wonderful step forward in building their confidence and skills.

Senior Choir

In addition, our Senior Choir had a fantastic turnout at the Sydney NorthWest Music Festival rehearsal. Their enthusiasm and commitment to music are truly inspiring, and we look forward to their performance at the festival.

Florimo Cup

We also had a successful representation at the Florimo Cup, where Mr Griffin and Mrs Withford accompanied 81 students to the Florimo 7s competition on Tuesday 17 June. It was a great opportunity for our students to engage in sports and demonstrate teamwork and sportsmanship.

Spelling Bee

This Monday, we held our K-2 Spelling Bee in the hall, featuring some fantastic spellers. The final three students impressively tackled Year 5 and 6 words, showcasing their remarkable spelling abilities. It was a wonderful event that highlighted the talents of our younger students.

New enrolments

I am also pleased to announce that we have had additional enrolments at our school, which brings positive benefits to our community. To support our growing student population, we will be utilising an additional teacher to provide extra support for our Stage 2 and Stage 3 classes, rather than forming a new class midway through the year. This decision will allow us to enhance the learning experience for our students by ensuring they receive more focused attention and assistance without disrupting the already settled class structures.

I would like to extend a huge thanks to the wonderful grandmother who collected all the lost property jumpers in the playground, washed and dried them, and returned them to school. Your kindness and thoughtfulness are truly appreciated, and we love you for your generous spirit!

As we approach the end of the semester, our teachers have been diligently finalising the Semester 2 academic reports for students. This year, we will be using the Department of Education's new report template. Please note that reports will be available on SchoolBytes instead of Sentral, and we will provide detailed information on how to access these during Week 10.

Lastly, I am looking forward to welcoming parents to our Term 2 Dance concert, which will take place on Thursday after recess. It promises to be an exciting event, showcasing the talents of our students.

Thank you for your continued support and involvement in our school community.

Warm regards,

The Media Team have been deconstructing a TV news package. They realised that this typically contains two kinds of interview: the expert (eg. politician, detective) and the vaux pop (man in the street). The students used professional lapel microphones to record these interviews.

What do they eat and how?

Bottlenose dolphins eat around 15 kilograms of food per day consisting of a wide variety of fish, squid and octopuses. Dolphins living in the open ocean may be able to dive to depths of more than 600 metres to catch food. Dolphins use echolocation for hunting and navigating. The clicking sounds they make travel through the water hitting objects up to 200 metres in front and echoing back to the dolphin, which allows them to work out the size, shape, speed, distance and direction of their prey. Working together as a group dolphins can trap schools of fish or squid by rounding them up and diving into the middle to feed, swallowing their food whole and head first.

What is a bottlenose dolphin?

Bottlenose dolphins are actually small whales, and belong to the group known as "toothed whales". They are air-breathing mammals so, even though they have adapted to the marine environment, they still must come to the surface to breathe through the blowhole on top of their heads. Bottlenose dolphins are so named because they have a short rounded snout or "beak" that resembles a bottle.

What do they look like?

Bottlenose dolphins are sleek and streamlined and can travel at speeds of up to 35 kilometres per hour. They have a prominent dorsal fin, which can be seen slicing through the water. In general, dolphins have a dark grey back and light grey belly. This helps to camouflage the animal so, when potential predators (such as killer whales or sharks) look up from the deep, the light grey belly blends in with bright surface waters. An adult bottlenose will weigh between 150 and 650 kilograms. Bottlenose dolphins can live to over 30 years of age.

STAGE 2 & 3

FLORIMO CUP

MRS WITHFORD

On Tuesday 17th June 80 of our Stage 2 and 3 students represented BPS at the Florimo Cup, held at Cliff Oval in Wahroonga. It was wonderful to see such strong team spirit across all our games, with students supporting each other and showing great sportsmanship. The winter sunshine added to the fun-filled atmosphere and the smiles on the students' faces said it all - a fantastic day of sport and school pride!

This fortnight's Smiling Mind focus is Optimism

At Home Activities

K-2

What Makes My Day Shine

One way of building optimism is to concentrate on the good things that happen. Write down all the things that made your day shine and be brighter and happier today. For example maybe you had a fun lesson at school or you made a new friend.

Stage 2

Turn It Around

Having pessimistic thoughts is normal and natural, but isn't always helpful. We can always notice when we have pessimistic thoughts and try to change them into optimistic ones. Let's try doing this in this activity. Write down 3 pessimistic thoughts that you have had or heard, and change them into optimistic thoughts. For example "My brother is annoying" can be changed to "How can I get along better with my brother?"

Stage 3

Awesome Awe Journal

One way of practising optimism is focussing on positive things that make us feel good. For this activity, you will practise focussing on things that you feel in awe of. What does "to be in awe" mean to you? Brainstorm this now and then every day this week, write or draw something that you felt in awe of during the day. For example, it could be a beautiful sunset or the kindness of a friend.
