

COMO WEST CONNECTION POINT

by Carly Magee, Relieving Principal

Stage 2 students immersed themselves in some exciting hands-on science activities this week. You'll find photos below showing just how much they enjoyed and learned from the experience. I am particularly proud of the positive feedback we received from the rangers, who commented on the students' enthusiasm, curiosity, and outstanding behaviour. It's wonderful to hear how well they represented Como West Public School.

The response to parent interviews was amazing again this year. It's great to see families connecting with their child's teacher and building strong partnerships.

Thank you to everyone who has generously donated for the P&C raffle. With your help, we are raising funds for our school, and it's not too late to support: eggs can still be dropped at the office or raffle tickets purchased. The cut-off date is Tuesday, 31st March.

Thank you for your ongoing support!

Stage 2 Science Incursion - Solids, Liquids and Gases

On Tuesday, our Stage 2 students had an exciting, hands-on science day, starting with a fun meet and greet with Rangers Piper and Vanessa. The highlight was a thrilling science show featuring a liquid nitrogen explosion that launched over 1,000 ping pong balls into the air!

In small groups, students engaged in a variety of activities: creating lava lamps and exploding bags, launching chemical rockets using vinegar and bi-carb soda, making and playing with slime (which they got to take home), and designing air-pressure rockets to launch into the sky. These challenges encouraged teamwork, problem-solving, and plenty of excitement.

It was a fun, interactive day that truly brought science to life. You might like to ask your child about their favourite experiment, what they discovered about solids, liquids, and gases, or which rocket design flew the highest!
