Term 3 Week 8 - 2025

CHILD PROTECTION WEEK

This week is National Child Protection Week. Protecting children from any type of abuse or neglect is everyone's business and we all play a part in empowering our children and their families to prevent abuse.

A very important message reinforced in our Child Protection lessons is, "NO, GO, TELL." With this strategy, the children learn how to identify situations that make them feel unsafe or uncomfortable and use their assertive skills to say NO to the person/s or situation and then GO and TELL a trusted adult.

EVERY CONVERSATION MATTERS

This year the theme of National Child Protection Week is:

Every Conversation Matters: Shifting conversation to action

Helping our children feel comfortable in asking questions and talking about their body safety is crucial to their protection.

Attached to this edition of SIS news is a family resource to help know when to begin conversations on consent and body safety with young children. Please read the attachment for more details.

FATHER'S DAY

We hope all of the SIS dads enjoyed their Father's Day last weekend. Our students certainly enjoyed shopping at our fundraising stall for their special carers in their lives. Our stall raised over $620 in profit! This will go directly to buying more equipment for our students to enjoy during playtime. Thank you for your generous support with donations and purchases. A special thank you to Ms Ardati, Mrs Songul & Mrs Tran for their wonderful help at the stall. Any thanks also to our staff members (Ms Lee and Mrs Yag) who helped source and prepare the gifts.

Sefton Infants School is now accepting applications of enrolment for Kindergarten 2026. Visit our school website or school office for application forms.
